Iredale Mineral

Mineral Makeup FAQ'S

Is the makeup easy to apply? Yes! The problem many first-time wearers encounter is that they apply too much! Because they are used to using makeup that has large amounts of filler, they use the same techniques with Jane Iredale. With minerals, less is more!

Are the powders drying? No, quite the opposite! The minerals actually trap moisture between the skin and the particle layer, helping your skin stay hydrated!

Does Jane Iredale work on older or aging skin? Yes! Because this is a light-reflective cosmetic, it obscures the look of fine lines and wrinkles and gives a healthy glow to the skin, making it look younger!

How soon can the makeup be applied after laser, microdermabrasion, or peels? The minerals can be applied immediately after a microdermabrasion or a light peel provided the skin has not been broken. They will not only cover the redness, but the titanium dioxide and zinc oxide may help to soothe the skin!

What is Microdermabrasion?

Microdermabrasion is a non-chemical, non-invasive method of skin resurfacing. Gentle skin blasting causes the dead skin layers to be removed along with other skin impurities.

Microdermabrasion treats dull and aging skin, superficial lines and wrinkles, brown spots and pigmentation, and sun damaged skin. Results are immediate with smooth, glowing skin. Overall tone and texture will also be improved.
